

What is the Frontier Club?

Our mission is to provide boys with the kind of direction and encouragement they need to see their future high school and college years in a wider perspective, with a sense of responsibility, and to develop those character traits that lead them to be of service to society, both now and in the future.

Frontier's curriculum is based on an approach to character education that considers a person's physical, moral and spiritual development as necessarily integrated. Frontier's activities are open to fathers and sons of all religious beliefs.

Opus Dei, a Prelature of the Catholic Church, takes responsibility for the spiritual dimension of all Frontier Club activities. Opus Dei's mission is to spread the message that work and everyday circumstances are occasions for growing closer to God, for serving others, and for improving society.
